DERMA LAYR™

Modern skincare technology has a new phase. DermaLayr™ is a breakthrough technology, which has revolutionised the rapid delivery of beneficial actives and compounds into the deep dermal layers of the skin. With DermaLayr technology inside, your product will exponentially outperform other skincare creams, masks and serums that use bulk fillers and carriers.

NanoLayr have developed DermaLayr for use in modern skincare products. Produced using a proprietary production method (Sonic Electrospinning Technology), DermaLayr is an ultra-thin non-woven web of collagen nanofibres at a scale 100x smaller than a human skin pore.

While the collagen nanofibres alone are beneficial, they serve as a rapid dermal delivery platform for bioactive compounds, which can be infused into DermaLayr.

BIOACTIVE FORMULATIONS

You could take advantage of the existing range of bioactive formulas we offer for different consumer benefits including skin whitening, tightening, repair and protection. The benefit of this being, should you have an immediate product range you wish to market, multiple formulas are available.
